The virtual Teambuilding for your Executive Team

Your benefits

The virtual Teambuilding, designed for an Executive Team, consists of a "leadership table" leading to an open and constructive dialogue converging to the following results:

- Co-construction of short-term solutions shared by the participants
- Alignment of the executive team on practical solutions
- Discovery of the potential of each team member
- Re-energising of the leadership team in a playful way

Through this virtual Teambuilding, the Executive Team will experience a playful and magical moment, during which the questions, framed by two Executive Coaches, can lead to depth, spontaneity and reflection on topics outside the usual framework.

This "leadership table" will stimulate alignment, mutual discovery, commonly shared solutions, effective and focused communication and a real connection between members.

It is an excellent alternative to physical "offsite" events, creating alignment within the leadership team.

Our process

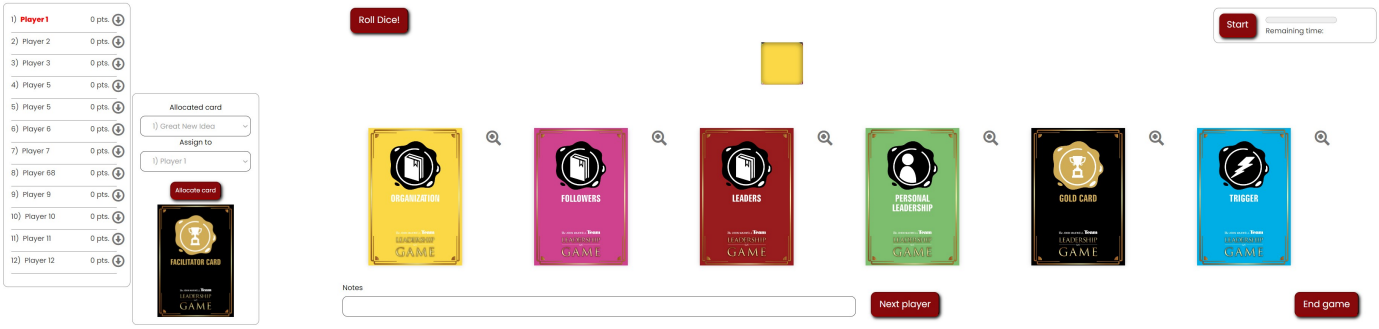
- A one hour face-to-face or virtual preparatory meeting with the primary decision-maker and a person of his/her choice to discuss the situation of your team, the changes or the progress you want to achieve
- The sending of relevant questions to be addressed during the leadership game
- A two-hour virtual leadership game session with your entire management committee
- A debriefing meeting with the primary decision-maker and a person of his/her choice, where we share our observations, conclusions and recommendations for achieving your objectives

Coaching throughout the process will be done by the founders of the CEO Talks, both Executive Coaches.

The Leadership Game session can accommodate 12 participants and can be facilitated in French and English.

Strategic performance for your Executive Team

Our approach



During this fun, interactive and practical two-hour workshop-style game, you will answer relevant questions that will lead to powerful discussions and sharing that can bring significant change to your Executive Team.

This game has been proven to work for CEOs of many organisations, restaurant chain managers, real estate specialists, network marketers, bankers, teachers, and many others!

This game is a real added value for every organisation.

Price

You can find the price and conditions on the following page:

[The virtual Teambuilding for your Executive Team]

[Strategic performance for your Executive Team]